Good morning Bryna,

Our day lodge project has hit a road block due to the unforeseen increase in construction costs. We have decided to withdraw our current approved funding from NDIT of $50k and re-apply for a higher amount (up to $300k or 50% of eligible costs).

I am working on this application this week as it is due May 14.

Of course, they require a resolution of support from the PRRD for this application. My question today is this: do you require the completed application when we submit our request? And when is the next meeting when we might receive the resolution of support? They ask for the date of the meeting on the application form. But the actual resolution does not have to accompany the application by the deadline - they just want to know that it is coming.

Thank you!

Eliza Stanford
