Hello,

I have no concern with them moving the Shale.

The only question I have is this, if they will be moving Shale from one property to another, does this not fall under the jurisdiction of energy and mines?

Morning Director Hiebert,

The applicant has started the permit process with the Ministry of Energy and Mines, but they haven't completed it because they are unsure if it is required since the shale extraction is only for personal use, and not for the purpose of selling.

Thank you,
Savannah
